But please let me know.)

that's the first
memory I have of her

It's been a year since then.

Most of my memories have come back,

But my sister...

only gives my an ambiguous answer when I ask,
and doesn't tell me which memories I've lost.

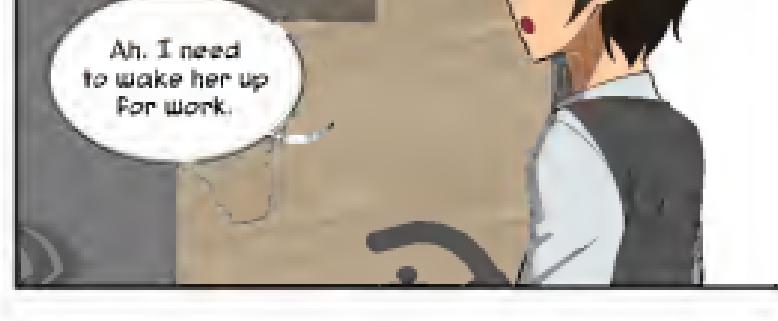

I'm not sure, but maybe that's why

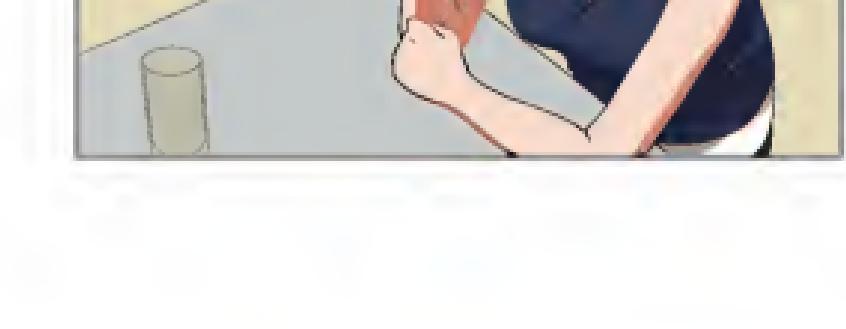

I'm still

not used to being 'me'.

Sis! Wake up!
You need to get to work!

How much
did you drink
yesterday?

Urg... I don't remember...
Wait, when did I
even come home?!

Well, Ji-won
delivered you here.
As always.

Give me a kiss,
my little brother.

ARGH!
You reek of alcohol!

Drunk personality Touchy-feely.

Ji-won must be a buddha.
I wonder why he
still hasn't fired a certain useless
employee who's a terrible drunk.

STAB!

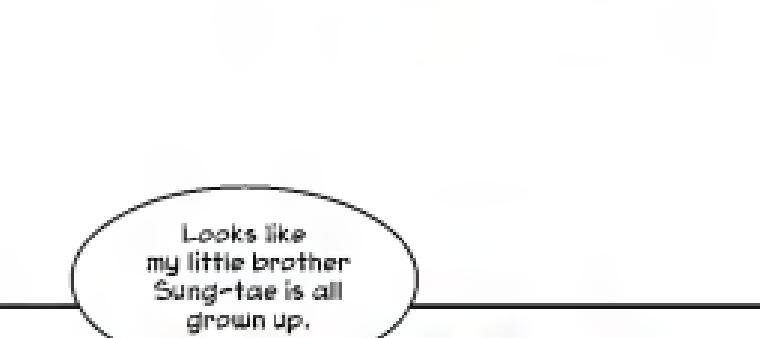

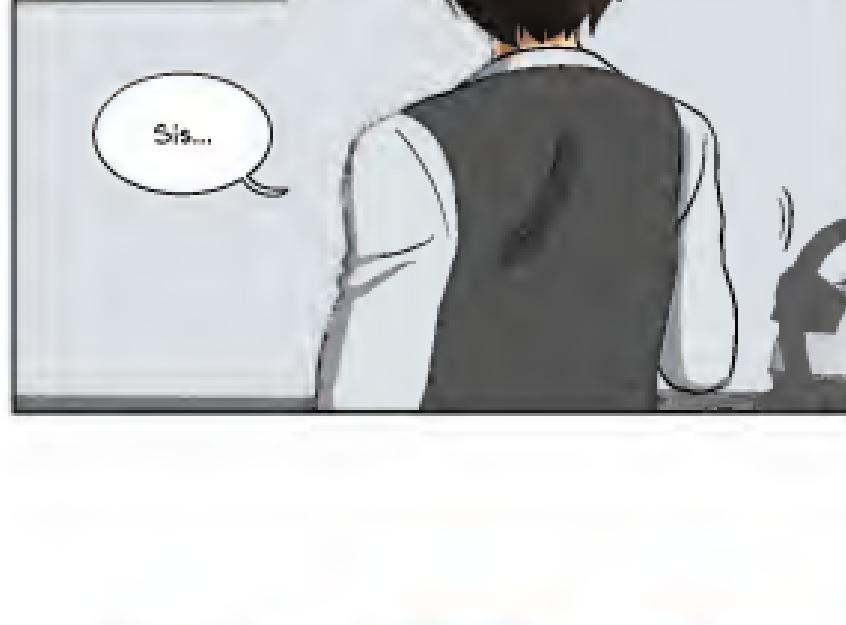

Another brother.
He used to be
so cute... but didn't get along.

It's fine—
Even if I get fired, I'm sure
you'll feed me.

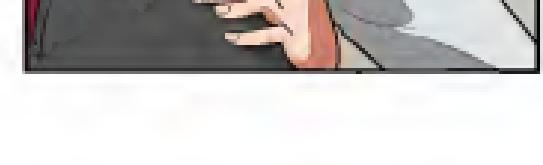

It's fine—
Even if I get
fired, I'm sure
you'll feed me.

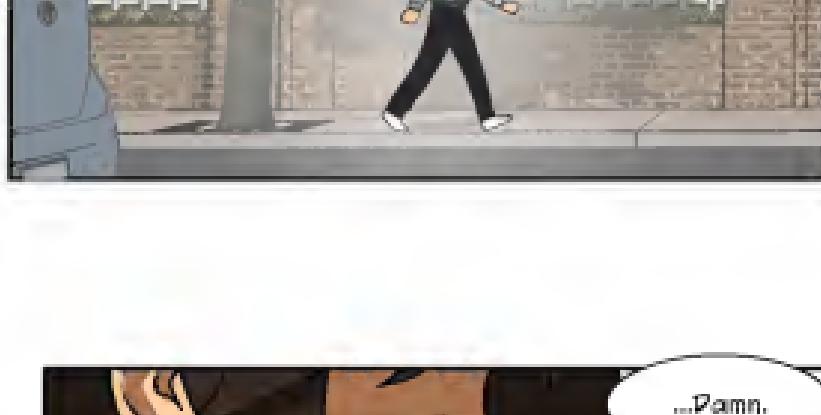

Huh? Hell no.
I'm just worried
about Ji-won.

No need.
He was born with
a silver spoon in
his mouth.

Looks like
my little brother
Sung-tae is all
grown up.

Truthfully, I am grateful to my sister.

She was my only family ever since I was a baby.

I can't imagine the responsibility she had to bear as the head of our household.

During Project Pig Iron-

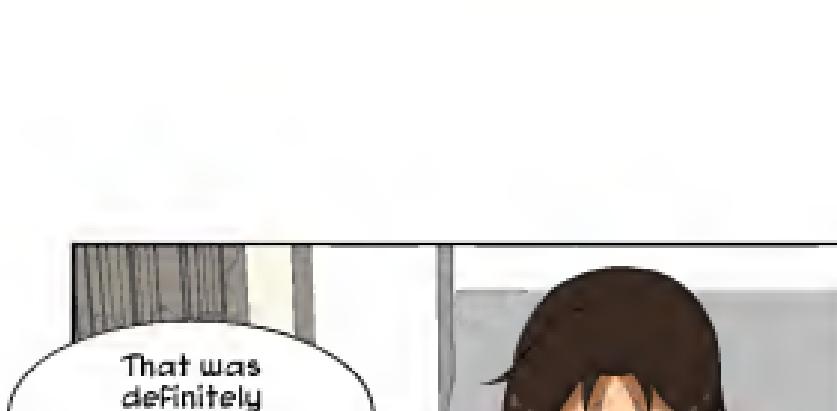

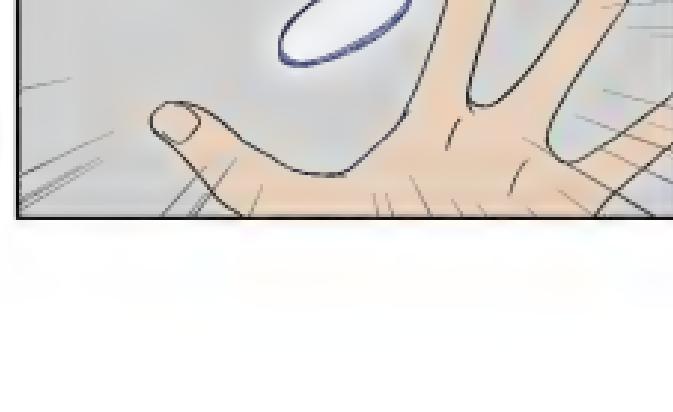

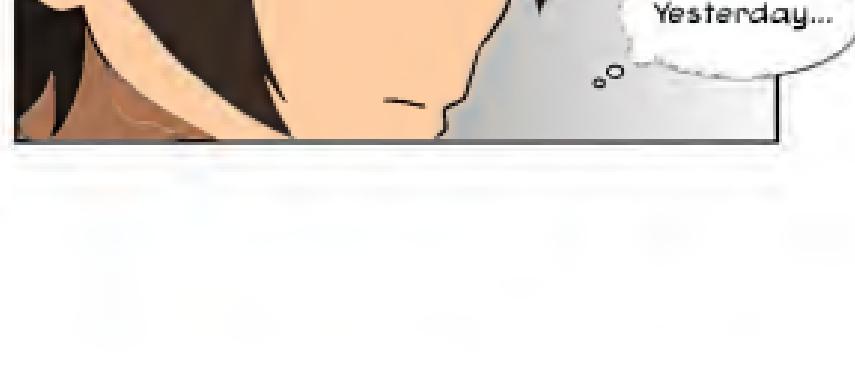

an experiment that was conducted with the utmost secrecy-

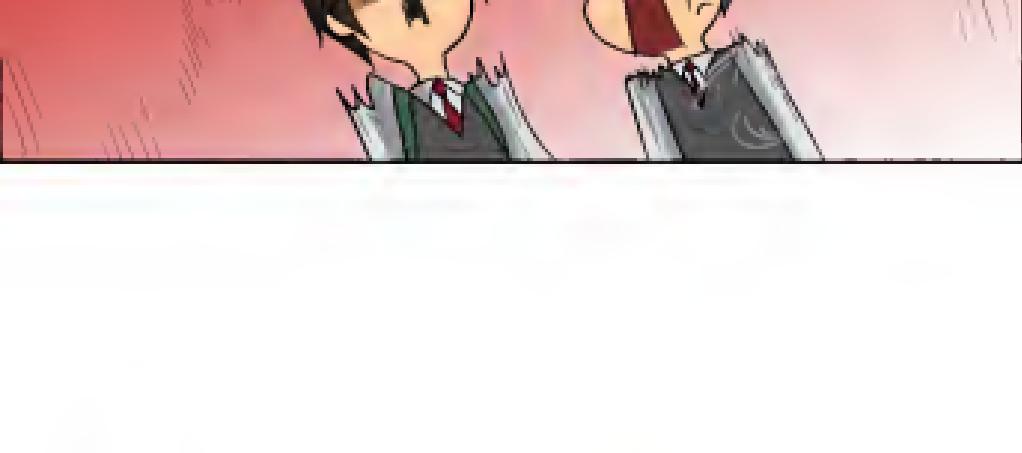

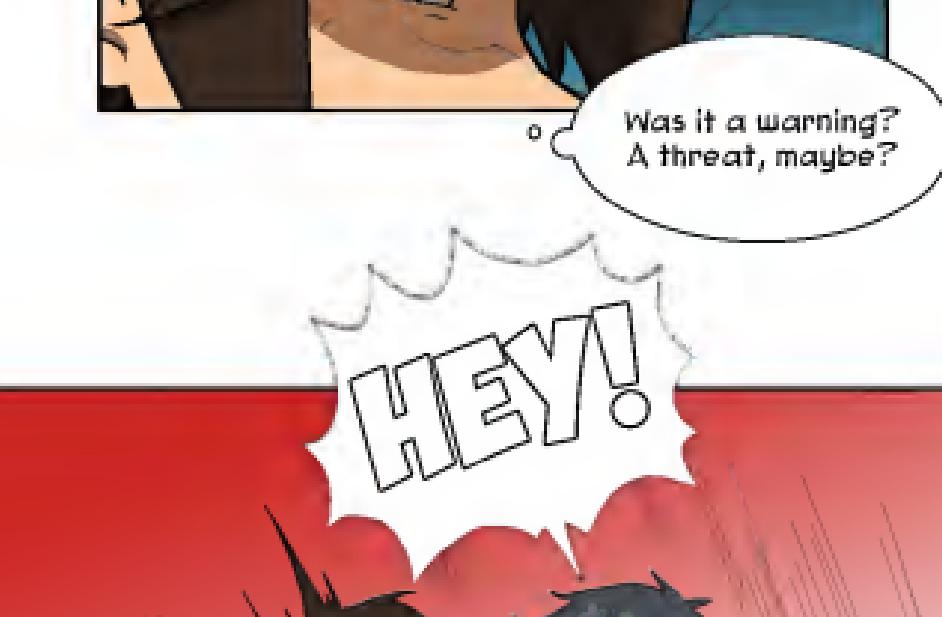

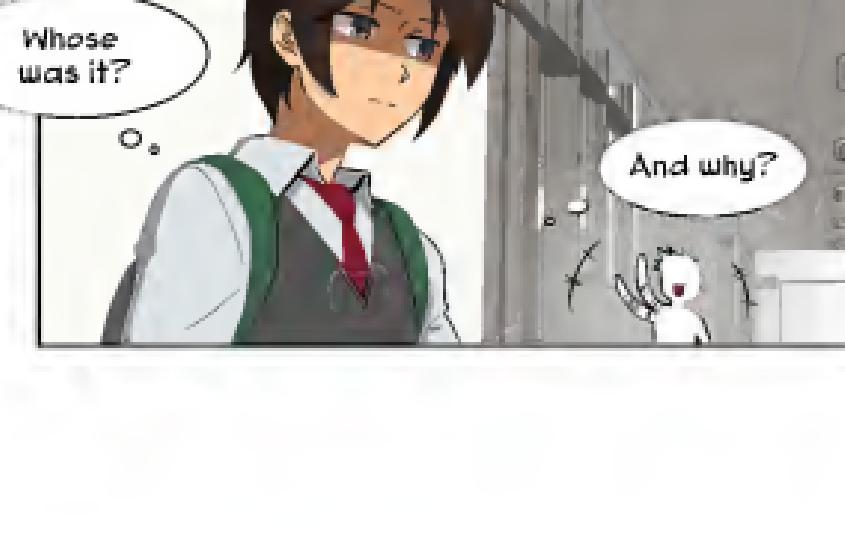

She put herself in danger for my sake.

The project was suspended indefinitely,
but still...

Just then,
a cute girl asked
me to give that
to you.

flip

She must've
been a freshman...

?!

I know your secret.

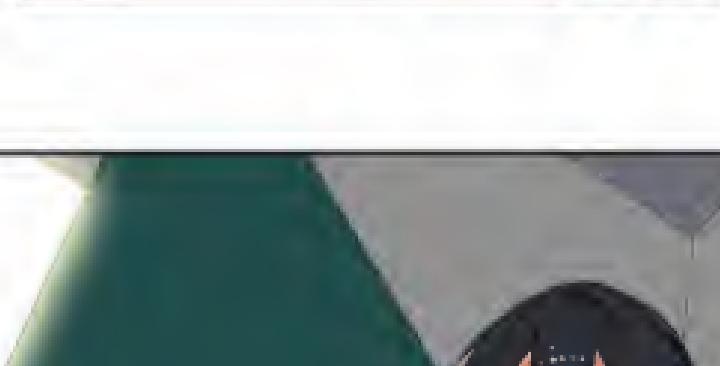

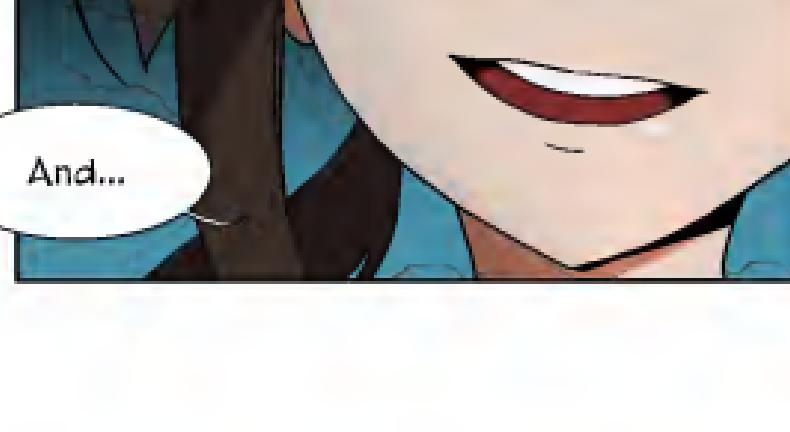

If you want to know who I am,
meet me at the rooftop.
~~If you don't come~~

Jung-hwan.
I'm going to the rooftop.

Huh?
Okay.

I'll keep it a secret from Ga-ram for you!

To be continued.
